

Johannes Amoser, M.phil. MSc

University of Notre Dame

Personal Profile

A recent graduate in philosophy and economics highly interested in philosophy, economics, and science with strengths in logical and abstract thinking.

Work Experience

2022/09 – 2023/08 Atlatno e.U.	Working for a boutique consultancy in project development. Tasks are studies of specific markets and controlling.
2018/02 – 2020/04 University of Innsbruck	Project assistant at the Institution of Christian Philosophy at an external funding project by the John Templeton Foundation. Different tasks like translating papers or creating texts for laypersons but also tasks in administration like controlling.

Education

Study at the University of Notre Dame

2023/08 – 2028/07	PhD in History and Philosophy of Science
-------------------	--

Study at the University of Innsbruck

2018/10 – 2021/09	MSc in Applied Economics (cumulative grade: 1.2)
2017/11 – 2021/04	M.phil. in Philosophy at Faculties of Catholic Theology (1.0)
2014/10 – 2018/04	BSc in Management and Economics (1.6)
2014/10 – 2017/11	B.phil. in Philosophy at Faculties of Catholic Theology (1.0)

Scholarship

2017	Merit-based scholarship by the University of Innsbruck
2019	Merit-based scholarship by the University of Innsbruck
2019-2021	Fellow of the scholarship of the Pro Scientia network
2023-2024	Adam Smith Fellowship of Mercatus Center

Skills

Languages	German (native), English (fluent)
IT	MS Offices, R, LaTeX (all advanced)

Activities

2019 – 2022	Assistant editor European Journal for Philosophy of Religion
2013/08 – 2014/04	National service paramedic Red Cross Innsbruck

References

Univ.-Prof. Dr. Georg Gasser	Univ.-Prof. Dr.Dr. Winfried Löffler	Univ.-Prof. Dr. Markus Walzl
Professor of philosophy University of Augsburg georg.gasser@kthf.uni-augsburg.de +49 821 598-2637	Professor of philosophy University of Innsbruck winfried.loeffler@uibk.ac.at +43 512 507-8525	Dean faculty for economics and statistics University of Innsbruck markus.walzl@uibk.ac.at +43 512 507 71011